NEWS FROM VALLEY

FORMER RESIDENT OF CALEXICO SAYS DAMAGE LESS SERIOUS THAN FIRST STATED

Quite a number of residents in Glendale and Tropic have property in the Imperial valley. None of them, however, have suffered serious loss. Indeed, with the exception of Charles A. Peck, 856 South Pacific avenue, most of them have escaped damage to their property.

Mr. Peck was summoned by telegram to Calexico last Wednesday. He lived in that city nine years before coming to reside in Glendale. After arriving in Calexico he found that the earth tremors had scarcely subsided. Indeed, after his arrival in the city two slight tremors shook down a quantity of loose bricks all over the place.

He says that some of the newspapers greatly exaggerated the damage done by the earthquake and that though some of them had the grace afterward to modify their statements, others permitted the first impression to remain.

In Calexico only the brick buildings had suffered anything like serious damage and in their case only the firewalls and overhanging cornices and porches were loosened and thrown down. One small fire broke out in the thing building, a brick erection. The upper part of this building was destroyed. This was the only building in the city that was in a position to collect anything in the way of insurance. In all other cases there was no provision for earthquake.

Mr. Peck's own building, once a garage, now a laundry, was the worst wreck in the town. It stood next to the Masonic temple, a two-story building. The firewall of the temple fell on the roof of Mr. Peck's building, crushing in the roof along its entire length, wrecking the laundry and destroying the outside walls and end walls to within one-half of their height.

"It seems," said Mr. Peck, "as though I had been a particular mark for the earthquake. My other building, my former residence, a wooden building, was worse damaged than any of the other wooden buildings in the city. The chimney was thrown down, the living-room was a complete wreck; tables, bookcases, furniture—all were destroyed."

"Throughout the city a curious scene can be observed. Here and there chimneys have been broken off and the remainder left standing, looking very curious in that truncated condition. Some of them had been sliced completely through and then turned round, presenting a ludicrous appearance. Nearly all of them, however, were thrown to the ground. Heaps of bricks are everywhere and the air seemed, even at the time I arrived, full of fine, impalpable dust."

"In most of the houses all the china was broken; beds were moved and pianos shifted about. Rich's garage had a section of its firewall thrown down and the bricks litter the ground all round. The high school building, a $75,000 structure, which was nearing completion, was only slightly damaged. The damage caused to the grammar school was considerable. It is likely that this structure will have to be torn down to the first story and rebuilt."

"Among some of the curious sights witnessed during the quake was the accident that befell a Ford auto. The owner of the machine was coming down the road when a railroad water tank, thirty feet in diameter and twenty feet in height, badly cracked by the shock, suddenly burst. The flood swept down the road, caught up with the Ford, and bore it along on its torrent. The Ford engine stopped, and when the water found other channels and left the little auto in the midst of a bank of adobe mud, the owner jumped out, cranked up his engine, breasted the wall of mud that was fast hardening about him, and with a mighty effort escaped."

"In Mexicali there were at least five people killed, but there was little or no looting. The police took charge from the first, on both sides of the line. Of course, in the general slackening of legitimate business there was a good deal of gambling and whiskey selling. Mescal and other fiery Mexican liquors played their part. The damage in Mexicali was caused by the cracking of the walls. This damage can be repaired. None of the churches or private houses was seriously injured."

"As I passed through the depot at El Centro I perceived that the depot itself was cracked in all directions. The milling company's building near the depot is a total loss. The fire wall at the Holt power plant had completely fallen, but the plant is now running."

"At Calexico the electric substation was badly damaged and the ice plant thrown down. Dr. Richter of Tro-

POST AND CORPS HOLD MEETING —OTHER NOTES BY TROPICO CORRESPONDENT

There was an unusually large attendance at the all-day meeting of N. P. Banks Post and Corps that was held in the G. A. R. hall Friday. The usual splendid dinner was served, after which the program was rendered. Mrs. Clara C. Holland, department president; Mrs. Jennie Helffing, department secretary; Mrs. Mary Dunning, chairman of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Veterans' association of Southern California; Mrs. Mary Dean, president of Bartlett-Logan W. R. C. of Los Angeles; and Mrs. Mary Reeve, secretary of the Corps at Ocean Park, were among the distinguished guests who enjoyed not only the dinner, but the program and the afternoon meeting of the Corps. Each of these ladies added to the program with their brief patriotic talks. The ladies of the Corps have decided to hold the annual Post, Corps and Sons of Veterans picnic Friday, July 23, at Echo park. All members of these organizations are invited to attend this picnic. This will be a basket picnic and whether the lunch is carried in a basket or a box, it is suggested that in preparing the contents extra be taken for one or two veterans who have no one to prepare a home-made basket lunch for them.

Mrs. Holland, on behalf of N. P. Banks Corps, presented Mrs. Della Hagood, past department chaplain, a handsome jewel, emblematic of her recent high official position in the department of California and Nevada. Mrs. Adelaide H. Imler, president of N. P. Banks Corps, who was so highly honored at the recent department convention held in San Jose by being elected a member of the executive board of the department, was duly installed into her high office by Mrs. Della Hagood, the past department chaplain and past president of N. P. Banks Corps, as well as past department patriotic instructor.

At this pretty ceremonial Mrs. Hagood was assisted by Mrs. Mae Henry, Mrs. Mayme Pollock, Mrs. Abbie Haskell and Mrs. Louise Purnell.

This evening Mrs. Imler will be one of the special guests of a reception to be given in Los Angeles in the pathotic hall by the several patriotic organizations of Los Angeles complimentary to Mrs. Clara Holland and her official family, of whom Mrs. Imler is now a member.

Frank B. McKenney, chairman of the float committee appointed by the Tropic Chamber of Commerce to assist with the great parade to be held in Los Angeles during the month of July, announces that there will be a meeting at his office Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Other members of the committee appointed with Mr. McKenney are Dr. W. C. Mabry and Frank E. Peters. Mrs. Charles A. Barker, president of the Tropic Thursday Afternoon club, has appointed as representatives from the club to assist Mr. McKenney and his committee Miss Cora Hickman, Mrs. Edward H. Weston and Mrs. A. L. Bancroft.

Miss Eula Richardson left for Catalina this morning, where she will enjoy an outing as the guest of Mrs. M. Blosser of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Hettie B. Williams and Mrs. Louis Hoffman motored from Ocean Park on Friday and enjoyed the all-day meeting of the Post and Corps.

WILSON TO SPEAK

J. Stitt Wilson will speak at the Majestic theater in Los Angeles on Sunday at 11 o'clock. Blanchard hall, where he spoke last Sabbath, was too small to hold those who wished to hear him, hence the change to a larger hall.

pico has a fine bungalow at Calexico. I noticed that the handsome cobblestone porch, which extended almost completely round the building, had been thrown down. One end of the Virginia hotel had fallen out and other damage had been done to the building. The Crocker drug store was one of the worst wrecked buildings in the city. The front had been completely destroyed and there was an almost total destruction of the stock kept in bottles. The grocery stores in the town suffered less as a great deal of their stock was canned goods; all their stock in glass jars was destroyed.

"It is most fortunate that the great irrigation ditches are all right. These are the backbone of the country and with their aid all will go right. The damage done will soon be repaired and as there is no evidence of loss of confidence on the part of the people, the valley will ere long be as prosperous as ever."

GREAT CONTEST GROWS

MUCH INTEREST IN NEWS CONTEST —TEST AROUSED BY THE CANDIDATES

The rivalry is keen. The News contestants have started in earnest to win the prizes they most desire in this $2000 subscription contest.

One noticeable feature about this campaign of votes is that practically every candidate has a large coterie of friends very much interested in his or her campaign.

It is well for every contestant to make a thorough canvass among their acquaintances as quickly as possible, as many people will leave in the next few weeks on vacations or trips, and unless their subscriptions are secured at once, it may be too late to depend on their votes on their return.

Another thing, the Glendale Evening News can be mailed to any beach or mountain resort; in fact, any place in the United States with the exception of the city of Los Angeles, without extra charge.

No doubt, too, if the proposition was favorably presented to them, many people would be glad to subscribe for the newsy eight-page local weekly, the Tri-City Progress, published from the Glendale Evening News office, to send to some eastern relative or friend who is interested in Glendale or Southern California. The subscription of the Tri-City Progress is only $1 a year, and in it will be found more than three times the local news than is in any other weekly in the San Fernando valley. Free samples of the Tri-City Progress, as well as extra copies of The News, may be had by any candidate who wishes to use them for sampling purposes.

The prizes will go to the people who secure the greatest number of votes, and subscriptions mean votes. The handsome Maxwell touring car, fully equipped, which was purchased of the Jno. A. Pirtle Maxwell-King agency, is worth anyone's time and effort for a few weeks. The $400 Schiller piano, which was purchased of the Platt Music company of Los Angeles, is on exhibition at The News office, and as for the trip to the exposition, the three $75 scholarships to the Isaacs-Woodbury Business college and the $50 deposit at the First National bank of Glendale—their value is well known.

MUSIC EDUCATION

One of the most beautiful programs ever given in the city of Glendale was given Friday night at the Masonic temple by the piano pupils of Mrs. Ann Etta Mayr, who has recently come to live among us, with the assistance of children from the dancing department of the Egan school of music and dramatic art.

Mrs. Mayr began the program with a short talk on music education, which was in substance that her pupils are educated in music, not instructed, i. e., the music is developed from the child's inner consciousness, rather than from the teacher telling him what to do. That the music was an integral part of their consciousness was beautifully demonstrated by the little people, who transposed their compositions with ease in various major or minor tonalities, it apparently making little difference which one.

Mrs. Mayr also said that while teaching through games has come to be a fad, the child should be encouraged in every way to try his mental strength, as only in so doing can he grow, never through his doing his work for him, though his task should be made a pleasant one. That she succeeds in keeping them happy was evidenced by the real enjoyment with which they did their work.

The last half of the program was devoted to advanced piano playing and there some surprises awaited the audience, for several of the young ladies played so artistically that it could not be considered in the class of pupils' work at all. The playing of Miss Daniels and Miss Witwer had a style, finish and technical breadth that it is seldom one's privilege to hear.

The little dancing numbers were a delightful innovation. Among them was a minuet danced in Colonial costume by four children not over six years of age. Their quaint, sweet dignity in powdered wigs and trains was most charming.

THREE DAYS' CELEBRATION AT LONG BEACH

This year Long Beach will celebrate the third, fourth and fifth of July in a most interesting manner to entertain the large crowds expected for these days. Events of unusual interest have been planned for each day, so that visitors will find each and every day brim full of pleasure. Read display advertisement elsewhere in this issue.

Men's club meets Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. The Woman's Auxiliary meets Friday afternoon in Guild hall at 2:30 o'clock. Let everyone do their part in working for the church. And don't neglect divine worship on Sunday. Excellent music by robed choir. Seats free.

QUARTERLY RALLY AT BAPTIST CHURCH

Sunday will be the last of the third quarter of the church year for the local Baptist church. All members are urged to be present. Short sermons and live congregational singing will be the objectives. Strangers are especially welcome to Glendale's central church, corner of Louise and Third streets.

"The Wonderful Christ" will be the morning sermon topic. A special interest attaches to the evening theme. Rev. Troy will preach on "Russellism Convicted of Ignorance." Free copies of the recent debate between Judge Rutherford and the Rev. Troy will be distributed upon request to all who attend. This is the first and last opportunity to secure these copies of the discussion of great Bible themes for four nights in Trinity auditorium, Los Angeles.

The gospel team, under whose auspices the Al Jennings meetings have been held in Los Angeles during the week, will hold their regular open-air service, corner of Broadway and Brand, at 6 o'clock. Rev. Troy will deliver a short address.

The B. Y. P. U. meets at the usual hour of 6:30.

Mr. Roy Kent, superintendent of the Bible school, gives all a hearty invitation to attend the session of the school, commencing at 9:30.

ENGLISH LUTHERAN CHURCH

Considering the attractions at Tropic Thursday night, there was a goodly number to hear the splendid recital of Miss Brewer's experiences and observations in India in the S. D. A. church. A rich treat was enjoyed by all present. We say to Miss Brewer, come again soon.

The pastor will preach Sunday morning on the subject, "Our Daily Fight and Its True Meaning." The text is I Peter 4:12, "Beloved, think it not strange concerning the fiery trial which is to try you as though some strange thing happened unto you."

THIRD CONGREGATIONALIST ANNIVERSARY

It is just three years since the First Congregational church of Glendale held its first service at Third and Central. The dedication of the present church building was held on the last Sunday in June, so tomorrow this important event will be observed (Continued on Page 3)

$10,000 PRIZE OPERA

INTEREST OF MUSICAL WORLD CENTERS IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Interest of the musical world is centered in the Southland during the biennial gathering of the National Federation of Musical clubs. Los Angeles is to have the distinction of presenting to the world the $10,000 American grand opera, "Fairyland," by Horatio Parker, dean of the music school of Yale university.

The great work will be given a magnificent production under the auspices of the American Opera association. The principals and conductor are from the Metropolitan Opera company of New York City. An orchestra of 100, a chorus of 125, and a ballet of 30 will be used in the production. The first performance will be Thursday night, July 1, and there will be three other performances, including a Saturday matinee. F. W. Blanchard, chairman of the 1915 music committee and president of the American Opera association, declares that the opera ranks with the works of Wagner in musical construction, breadth of thought and beauty.

The premiere of the prize opera will follow a week of recitals, concerts, symphony programs and musical contests on the federation program. This elaborate musical festival is expected to place Southern California in the center of the musical map of the world for all time to come.

GET READY FOR ELKS' VISIT

The Elks' national convention will convene in Los Angeles about the second week in July. There has been set apart a day to be known as the Pasadena-Glendale Elks' day, at which time Pasadena and Glendale will entertain the visiting delegates one day. Upon that day thousands of prominent strangers will visit our city and ride over the principal streets of Glendale. "First impressions are lasting," and so it will be in the instance of the visitors upon that date. If vacant lots and the general condition of the city are in good shape, the visitors will go away having a good opinion of Glendale. If things are not neat and clean about our city, the result will be different. Everybody should get busy.

MRS. ZERR COMES FROM HOLTVILLE

Mrs. E. J. Zerr arrived in Glendale Thursday evening from her home in Holtville, Imperial valley, where she went through the harrowing experience of the earthquake, which devastated parts of the valley. Mr. Zerr is city engineer of Holtville and while that city is located in the highest part of the valley and suffered less than some sections, it did not entirely escape.

Mrs. Zerr says that in two hours there were 28 quakes, including the three that did the most of the damage. For three days there were tremblings of the earth at very frequent intervals and after Mrs. Zerr was on the train Thursday morning there were further shocks. About $1500 damage was done in Holtville and that city is now under martial law.

Mrs. Zerr will spend the summer in Glendale and in visiting the two exhibitions and is anticipating a trip to the East in the fall.

VICTIMS OF AUTO WRECK

Milton Morgan, son of Mr. W. Morgan of Morgan's dairy, 256 East Ninth street, who was seriously injured in an auto accident near Santa Monica the other day, is resting comfortably at his father's home while waiting for his broken rib to knit up again. The accounts given of the accident in the Los Angeles papers were misleading. The fact is that as the Morgan auto was running on the non-asphalted section of Fourth street, where it joins Wilshire boulevard, a wagon loaded with hay crowded it into the gutter; another wagon, one of those heavy oil cars, was in the way.

Just before this the car had met with an accident to one of its tires and was running on the rim. This made the wheel stick in the soft road and in attempting to right the car and avoid accident, the young driver found himself upset. Mrs. Morgan was badly bruised and received a couple of black eyes. Thomas and Jenny Morgan, who were in the accident also, were slightly hurt. All are progressing favorably.

Mr. Morgan, the proprietor of the Morgan dairy, was not in the accident, nor was a pet coyote cub the cause of the mishap. It will be remembered that some short time ago the Morgan auto-wagon was smashed up in a collision at Brand boulevard and Acacia. This second accident is therefore particularly unfortunate.

DAILY EDITORS MEET

DISCUSS BUSINESS AND ENJOY BANQUET AT ONTARIO'S CASA BLANCA

Editors of Southern California daily newspapers met at the Casa Blanca hotel in Ontario Friday evening, enjoyed a delightful 6 o'clock banquet served by the Casa Blanca hotel, and afterwards spent several hours discussing items of business of interest to publishers of country dailies.

Representatives of daily papers were in attendance from Ontario, Updalls, Pomona, Redlands, Riverside, Monrovia, Glendale, Santa Ana, San Bernardino, Corona, Whittier and Huntington Beach.

To the tourist and others who are not familiar with the advantages offered by the beautiful little city of Ontario, and to those who have not learned of the excellent hotel facilities afforded in that city, we will say that Casa Blanca, Ontario's fine new hotel, is located on the two state highways, between Los Angeles and Riverside and San Bernardino, thirty-seven miles from Los Angeles. It is in a natural park with beautiful surroundings, three blocks from the business center of Ontario.

There are fifty rooms, each with bath. The dining-room, with seats for over 100 guests, is in a beautiful separate building, connected with the office lobby and the rest of the hotel by an arcade. The entire building is of grey brick, all bearing out the effect of the name, Casa Blanca (white house), which contrasts with the trees, lawns and flowers in the spacious grounds.

"Service" is the slogan of the Casa Blanca. Telephones in every room add to convenience, while steam heat takes the chill off mornings and evenings. The furnishings of the hotel are elegant, but refined.

Ontario, lying on the two state highways, the one the Mission boulevard to Riverside and San Diego, the other the Foothill boulevard to San Bernardino, Redlands and the San Bernardino mountains, gives the Casa Blanca an ideal location for auto tourists. It is a worthy addition to Southern California's splendid tourist hotels, such as the Maryland at Pasadena, Arrowhead at San Bernardino, Mission Inn at Riverside, Coronado at San Diego, Potter and Arlington at Santa Barbara.

Casa Blanca is owned by E. A. Parkford, a man of vision, whose investment approaches $100,000. Mrs. A. D. Stricker is the manager. She was well known to guests of Southern California hotels and her reputation has been enhanced by her conduct of Casa Blanca in the few months since it was opened.

Casa Blanca garage, tennis courts, golf courses, etc., add to the enjoyment of guests. This first unit is so built that successive units can be added until an entire square is used. Casa Blanca's first few months presage an increasing patronage from tourists and traveling men.

"A DAUGHTER OF THE PEOPLE" AT PALACE GRAND SUNDAY

For Sunday matinee and night the dramatic art film, "The Daughter of the People," has been secured by the management of the Palace Grand, with Laura Sawyer, Frederick De Belleville and Robert Broderick in the title roles.

The plot of the play is indeed an interesting one and in short is as follows: Arthur Stillman, cotton goods manufacturer, closes his mills and must suffer results in the town of Rockton. Dell Hamilton, daughter of an old mill dyer, is in love with Sam Lloyd, the young engineer of the mill, and both their families are victims of Stillman's action.

Sam learns of Stillman's double dealing and the men set fire to the cotton warehouse. Stillman, who is in love with Dell, tells her that he will reopen the mill if she will marry him. Urged on by Sam, who is ignorant of Stillman's conditions, she tries to influence Stillman.

Stillman illegally marries Dell and when she learns the truth she leaves him. She returns to the mill and is repulsed by her family and friends. Her lover, Sam, also disowns her.

But Stillman is a changed man. He re-opens the mill, improves the conditions of his working people and legally marries Dell, who has grown to love him.

Tonight, Saturday, an exceptional bill will be shown, including Pathe News, No. 46; a comedy, "Max in a Difficult Position," and one of the best "laugh-makers" ever filmed—"Just Nuts."

The feature picture of the program is a three-part feature, "The Wolf Unmasked."

The average length of life is increasing in this country. Sane, simple living will increase it still more.

"CIRCUMSTANCES ALTER CASES"

Some days ago, when Germany was anxious to placate the United States in order to stave off possible complications with this country over the murder of American men, women and children on the Lusitania and in order to avoid direct question in the William P. Frye case, sunk by the German commerce raider, Prinz Eitel Friedrich, imperial orders were issued to suppress the "Tages Zeitung," the organ of Count von Reventlow. That ably conducted paper had been following out its well-known policy of castigating President Wilson and the United States for what it is pleased to style their hypocrisy and also for their villainy in selling arms and ammunition to the British and their allies. It did not suit the kaiser's purpose to bring the United States into direct antagonism to Germany, so the bold "Tages Zeitung" was muzzled.

Then came the "great Galician drive," where Germany massed 2,800,000 men, with 2000 large caliber field guns and 3000 of less size against 1,200,000 Russians, with a scanty supply of field guns and a still smaller supply of ammunition. The consequence was that the Russians, after a brave resistance, were crumpled up and driven back out of Galicia. All Germany went wild over this victory. Berlin was illuminated and every city in the empire followed suit. Immediately the tone of the German press underwent a great change. The editors, having obtained permission from those in authority, stiffened their backbones, took a firmer grip of their pens, and talked loudly of refusing to grant the United States a single concession. The suspension on the Tages Zeitung was recalled and that doughty warrior came out next morning in a fresh coat of war ink and threatened dire things to the United States and to the world.

The amazing feature of all this is that the Germans do not give the rest of the world, and especially the United States, the credit for knowing enough to see through their shift of position or in the day of their humiliation of the Teuton to perceive the mailed fist beneath the sackcloth and ashes. Count Reventlow, having been let loose once more, howls fearfully that President Wilson is giving Germany a crooked deal and that he has closed the Panama canal in order to force American ships to trade with Russia and to favor the British; that he is secretly encouraging the supply of ammunition to the British by American arms factories and that Germany will demand a reckoning for this and so on, now in so many words, now veiled under euphuistic phrase.

In short, the Germans think that circumstances have so changed the face of the war that there is no longer need to conceal their intentions. They will, so they say, throw their army into England; destroy London, and humble the perfidious British nation. Meantime, they are not adverse to let other nations know that their determination is to maintain German prestige and resist whatsoever they deem encroachments on German rights and privileges in any part of the world.

PIONEER SPIRIT OF AMERICA

Like the famous Roman consul who refused to despair of the country even after its crushing defeat by Carthage, Charles R. Rockwood, chief engineer of the Imperial irrigation district, deserves honor at the hands of his fellow pioneers for refusing to sit down amid the crumbling walls of El Centro and despair of the future of the valley. The true frontier spirit, the pioneer spirit of America, is that which rises up serene from a catastrophe and begins all over again without a whine or a murmur.

Earthquake and fire made a newer and greater, a better and cleaner San Francisco; and earthquake and fire will give the Imperial valley an impetus that will carry it as far as the prophetic vision of Rockwood has seen it go. "The Seer," as they call him in the valley, long before there was a settler in the valley, prophesied that 500,000 people would populate the valley in no distant future, on both sides of the line.

It is not to be supposed for a moment that so small a thing as a mere crack in the outer skin of the earth, with a consequent throwing down of a few brick houses and a few cracks in adobe and brick walls is going to terrify the pioneers of the valley or to stay that empire section in its march to its destiny. Wherever such disasters have struck the American people, they have been quick to snatch fortune out of ruin.

When toward the close of September in the year 1905 fire wiped out the better half of Nome, Alaska; when there was no time to get provisions or supplies of any kind from Seattle; when everything looked black and miserable for those who had been burned out with the Arctic winter staring them in the face, not a murmur was heard; but while the ruins were still smoking the hardy pioneers of the North were at work rebuilding on a larger scale the stores and houses they had lost.

So it will be in the Imperial valley. Already the note of confidence is heard and work has been begun to build up what has been destroyed. It is likewise the case, as has been surmised by those who understand such catastrophes, that the destruction as first reported was greatly exaggerated. There was not so very much to be injured in the open valley and even the stores and buildings that have suffered in the cities can be rebuilt without great expense. In most cases the cracks can be mended and work can be, nay already is, being resumed.

Throughout the whole of the earthquake-stricken district rebuilding has started; the banks are doing business in the open air and the voice of the hammer resounds on every side. The pioneers of the valley are justifying the confidence placed in them by those who know their brave and constant spirit, and in a short time new and larger El Centros, Imperials and Calexios will arise on the ruins of the old.

NORTH GLENDALE

The Sunday school picnic of the Casa Verdugo M. E. church occurred Friday at Verdugo park. About fifty went over, some by the conveyances furnished by the school, others by the electric cars. A bountiful picnic luncheon was spread out under the oak trees and ice cream and lemonade were provided by the school, enough to satisfy even the small boy. Games of different kinds, an excellent program and a general good time was enjoyed by all present.

Mrs. Minnie Muller of Los Angeles was the guest of her son and family, Mr. Elliott Cresson Muller of 930 Fairview avenue during the week.

Mrs. Sarah Kearns of Redlands has leased her attractive house located at 1304 North Maryland avenue to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Spychalski, who have taken possession.

Mrs. W. L. Colton of 411 South Central avenue is spending the week in Corona, where she is the guest of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Wyman of 1326 North Maryland avenue will entertain with an informal card party this evening. The guests who will enjoy this delightful affair will include Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. J. Walter Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bassett, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Priest, of North Glendale, and Mr. and Mrs. Boeshe of Los Angeles.

Mr. Harry Longland of 1008 San Rafael street left last Wednesday for his former home in Pennsylvania, where he has secured a position in one of the large powder factories near Pittsburgh.

The Misses Ruby and Dolly Jones of 914 San Rafael street entertained last Thursday evening a party of friends from Dallas, Texas, who are touring California and who are at present stopping in Los Angeles.

Miss Hazel Colton of 411 South Central avenue and Miss Bonita Brown of Los Angeles were guests of friends at the Orpheum last Thursday afternoon.

The services at the Casa Verdugo M. E. church for Sunday, June 27th, will be as follows: Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. Morning service at 11 a. m., at which time the pastor will take for his subject, "The Shepherd's Psalm." Evening service at 7:30 p. m. and the topic will be "And He Took a Little Child and Stood in the Midst of Them." Young people are especially invited to this service. Special music will be rendered. All are cordially invited.

MATINEE PARTY

The ladies of the A. G. T. club are enjoying a matinee party at the Mason this afternoon to witness Billy Burke in "Jerry." The members of this popular club are Mesdames J. W. Usilton, John Roman, Leon Wilkison of Los Angeles, F. H. Vesper, E. R. Naudain, Chester Kling, Herman Nelson, Philip Englehorn and J. C. Waite.

CONGREGATIONAL CHOIR

One of the pleasant choir parties given now and then by Mrs. Willisford and the Rev. E. H. Willisford to the efficient and loyal choir of the Congregational church was enjoyed Friday night at the Willisford residence. Eighteen members of the choir were present. The evening's entertainment took the form of a musicale and light refreshments were served.

TO HOLD PRAISE SERVICE

The Women's Missionary society of the Presbyterian church of Tropic will hold a praise service in the church Sunday evening at 7:30. Miss Alice Moore of Long Beach will give an address on "Freedmen—Fifty Years of Progress." Miss Moore has lived in the South and is thoroughly acquainted with the negro and his peculiarities. She has the reputation of being a most entertaining speaker. The public is cordially invited to be present.

Make your vacation restful, rather than restless.

More than half of Mexico's woe is due to bad leadership.

"Honesty is the best policy." Carry a life-time, paid-up policy.

Little Johnnie will be satisfied with no dead-march observance of the Fourth of July.

There can be aliveness, alertness and progressive activity in civic affairs without factional brawling.

If the assertions about the salaries paid prominent theatrical figures for appearing in motion pictures be correct, there are a number of well-fixed stars.

We may believe that those who find entrance into the celestial city must be of such a frame of soul as to be able to walk the golden streets without coveting the paving.

That projected government railroad will be the main transportation artery from the heart of Alaska. This should conduce to healthful material development in that far Northwest.

Failing and being a failure are two entirely different things, and there are people who wring more success out of their misfortune than others do out of all the advantages showered upon them. It is not failing, but staying down, that makes a failure.

YOUR OPPORTUNITY!

How would you like to have portraits usually sold at $10.00 the dozen for $5.00? We want to find out just how good an advertising medium this space is; hence, this unusual offer.

"Portraits, any finish we make, two dozen for the price of one dozen."

We don't believe in bargain sales in portraiture and have never made such an offer before and never will again.

This "ad" will appear until June 30. If you are unable to come between now and then, phone for a future appointment and the rate will be held for you. An appointment is necessary in either case.

PERSONALS

Mr. David Coey of the Yucaipa apple fair was a Glendale caller on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. MacRae, 1436 Salem street, have rented their home and gone to Long Beach for a vacation.

Mrs. Mary Porteous of Los Angeles was a guest Thursday in the home of Mrs. W. C. Stone, Chestnut street, Glendale.

Mrs. J. F. McIntyre, 315 Cedar street; Miss Annie McIntyre, Miss Edith Lawrence and Master Lawrence spent Wednesday at Long Beach.

Friends of Mrs. H. R. Gibbs of 419 South Central are glad to know that she is able to be out again after suffering a severe injury to her arm.

Mrs. C. Cable, 1634 South Columbus avenue, is the guest today of Mrs. LeRoy Bosserman at St. Mark's Sunday school picnic at Griffith park.

Mrs. Dr. C. Cable, 755 South Columbus avenue, and Miss Gertrude Bennett of Los Angeles were luncheon guests of the Tuesday Afternoon club Tuesday.

Many Glendale people are planning to attend the organ recital to be given by Prof. George Whitfield Andrews of the Oberlin college of music at Temple auditorium tomorrow.

The many friends of Mrs. C. U. Mandis, 825 West Colorado boulevard, will be glad to hear that she is able to return home after an operation performed at the Thorncroft hospital.

Mrs. W. S. Althouse, 237 North Isabel street, entertained the Thimble club at her residence Wednesday afternoon. Those present were Mrs. J. F. Neel, Mrs. Augustus Eddy, Mrs. Gus Pulliam, Mrs. Harry Neel and Mrs. C. B. Wilde.

Mrs. Coral Harrison Sloan, 1550 Myrtle street, and Mrs. Frank Patch, 1515 Ivy street, were guests at the home of Mrs. J. W. Cousins, Lorraine street, Casa Verdugo, Thursday afternoon. Other guests were Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Roach. The luncheon was an elaborate twelve-course affair. The dining-room was ablaze with hundreds of flame-colored pomegranate blossoms.

Mrs. Coral Harrison Sloan was overwhelmed with congratulations at her Shakespeare reading Wednesday. The Sloan residence was packed to capacity with the audience. Mrs. Sloan's reading and interpretation of "Hamlet" was so highly appreciated that she was besieged with requests for a repetition. The reading will be repeated next Wednesday and the public is cordially invited to attend the session, which will take place at 1550 Myrtle street from 10 a. m. to 12 noon.

THE BIG RECEPTION

Preparations are going on for the big banquet and reception whereby the people of Glendale will do honor to their representative at Washington—Congressman Charles H. Randall. This is an affair in which all public spirited citizens are expected to take part and there seems to be much interest in this coming event.

BALL GAME TOMORROW

Lovers of baseball will find excellent entertainment tomorrow at Verdugo park. Glendale has been showing good form of late and is certain to put up a fine exhibition against the strong team that will be sent into the field by the Fritz school hall. This organization has developed considerable pitching strength and they should be able to make things interesting for the Glendalites. Lawrence will pitch and will have some work to do to hold down the score, if the estimate the Fritz have of their own ability is correct.

DANCE AT VERDUGO PARK

This is ideal weather for an al fresco dance. The moonlight, the balmy air, the cooling breeze, the scent of the orange groves borne on the wings of the evening, all lend romance and charm to a rhythmic whirl in the enchanting mazes of modern terpsichorean figures. Such is the attraction offered by the White Star Patrol of the Elks to their many friends and acquaintances and the public in Verdugo park this evening. The White Star Patrol has had the handsome pavilion in the park fitted up specially for the occasion. Bunting festoons the walls, flowers and ferns are everywhere. The dance will begin promptly at 8:30. It is expected that there will be a large crowd present. The usual refreshments can be had at the pavilion.

BOY SCOUTS TO MEET

A demonstration will be held by the Boy Scouts at the First Baptist church Tuesday evening, June 29. Mr. B. W. Pollard of Los Angeles, district organizer of the Boy Scout movement, will be present and will address the meeting. The public is cordially invited to be present. A free will offering will be taken to defray expenses. 26613

The warring nations of Europe would do well, at the conclusion of hostilities, to imitate the course of Chile and Argentina in building a great statue of the Christ, as a peace monument, on their frontiers.

STOCKDALE-SKINNER

Mr. John Stockdale of Glendale and Miss Frances Skinner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anson Skinner of Sandwich, Ills., were married at 8:30 o'clock June 21 at Pacific Grove, Monterey county, at the home of the bride's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Buck, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Dr. Leslie M. Burwell, pastor of the Methodist church.

The spacious rooms of the residence were beautified with a profusion of asparagus fern and pink and white sweet peas.

The bride looked charming indeed in her bridal gown of white. In her hair were arranged orange blossoms from the ranch of Mr. Buck, near Lindsay, and at her belt she wore a bunch of the same beautiful sweet-scented flowers.

After an elaborate wedding breakfast, Mr. and Mrs. Stockdale departed for their home in Southern California. The wedding was a quiet affair, only the few relatives who were here being present at the ceremony.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES MEET

The regular meeting of the school trustees was held in the Intermediate school building Friday night. There was the usual routine business and some bids for school furniture were received. The trustees voted a sum of $150 for the purpose of providing vacation playgrounds. This sum will be applied to defray the salaries of the playground directors and in combination with the sum of $150 voted by the city council will make possible the opening of three playgrounds at once.

It is expected to open up for the use of the children of Glendale by July 1 the Pacific avenue playground, Central avenue and either the Union high school grounds or those of the Third street school.

PLAYGROUND BENEFIT

Miss Ruby Dale and her pupils are giving rehearsals daily for the musical to be given in the high school auditorium for the benefit of the Pacific avenue school playground. The Kranich & Bach piano to be used upon this occasion with that of the one in the high school, is being furnished by the Southern California Music company.

These rehearsals are being held in the Pacific avenue school building in the large, cool and well ventilated court of the school building. Work is progressing rapidly on these playgrounds and all are intent on equipping a desirable place where the children may spend their vacation in play and enjoying many athletic sports and games for which an instructor is being secured.

ALL PEOPLE MAKE MISTAKES

The school teacher, the newspaper man, the preacher, the doctor, the lawyer, the merchant and men of all professions and occupations are likely to make mistakes. The perfect men and women are not on earth; they have gone beyond. The teacher's mistake may be today and the editor's tomorrow. The editor may point with ridicule at the teacher today, and the teacher in turn may point with scorn at the editor for his mistake tomorrow.

So it is with the preacher, doctor and other men; their time for erring is sure to come. One individual cannot afford to too severely point out the fault of another, for he himself may be on the threshold of a blunder that is more glaring to the eyes of the public than the blunders made by all.

GIRLS ENTERTAIN

On Friday evening, June 25, the girls of the T. I. C. class of the Presbyterian Sunday school gave a most enjoyable entertainment. The program consisted of:
Piano duet, Marjorie Nye and Janet Wilson.
Reading, Beth MacPherson.
Vocal solo, Margaret Albright.
Comedy, "The Minister's Wife."
Characters—Miss Bennett, principal Girls' Seminary, Ruth Gray; Mrs. Charles Parsons, minister's wife, Beth MacPherson. Girls of the seminary—Rose, Annabel McClellan; Mildred, Helen Begg; Gertrude, Marjorie Nye; Mollie, Clara Louise Butterfield.

Piano solo, Annabel McClellan.
Reading, Cora Louise Butterfield.
Double number on piano, Mary Wilkin.

The social hall of the church was most becomingly decorated in greenery, hydrangeas and shasta daisies. The stage was a perfect representation of a girl's room, pennants, chafin dish, etc. Candy and pop were sold in an unique booth of pink and green.

The girls wish to thank their many friends for their patronage and assistance. The class is under the direction of Miss Bessie L. Field.

SUNDAY SERVICES

by important and appropriate services.

The Sunday school assemblies at 9:45 a. m. The superintendent desires a large attendance. He has some important announcements to present.

Every member of the men's Bible class is urged to be present. The pastor will conduct the class. He will give a helpful and interesting address on "How to Read the Bible."

New members will be received and the communion administered at 11 a. m. The pastor will give a brief address. This church invites all who love the Lord Jesus Christ to partake of the communion. This church teaches and practices the fellowship of all who believe in God and the Lord Jesus Christ. Every member of the church and congregation is urged to be present at this "every-member-present communion service."

C. E. meeting at 6:30 p. m. The pastor will lead. Topic, "Song and Its Meaning." Those who attend are requested to name a favorite hymn and tell why it is a favorite.

At 7:30 p. m. Rev. James Henry McLaren, D. D., the able preacher, will preach on the topic, "World Conquerors." Dr. McLaren will have a great message.

This man will lecture Monday evening on "The Flags of the World."

CRUELTY TO ANIMALS

In Judge Miller's court this morning E. H. McMahan, 1016 Fairview avenue, was charged on behalf of the People, before a jury, with having exercised cruelty to animals, in as much as he had thrown a stone at a dog belonging to a Mr. Mason, had broken his back, afterward killing the animal.

McMahan was represented by Attorney Albert D. Pearce, who entered a plea of not guilty, urging that while McMahan did kill the dog, he would have subjected himself to prosecution had he not done so.

The People were represented by Deputy District Attorneys Powell and Reineke, who called eight witnesses. Attorney Pearce called two witnesses who showed that McMahan had been roused from sleep at 4 a. m. by Mason's dog, who was killing McMahan's chickens. McMahan threw a stone at the dog and discovering that he had broken its back, took a bottle and put it out of its misery with a few blows on the head.

The jury of twelve stood eleven to one for acquittal and the district attorneys withdrew the case, which amounts to an acquittal for McMahan.

Seed Notes

Full oft the longing soul goes out
 On wing of song its good to find,
 And flying far o'er flood and doubt
 Its ark of bondage leaves behind.

In this stanza Mr. Hopkins has spoken much truth. For song is known to have a most tremendous power under every condition of life. Sadness, worry, weariness, bereavement, misfortune, illness are much put to the background under some lively strain that lifts the heart and feelings into a new line of thought and longing.

It is true that Germany is far richer in hymnology than any other country on earth. It is also true that Luther was the founder of church music and German hymnology. He was an accomplished musician. Knowing the power of song, especially the sacred songs, he composed words and music on the Reformation that were carried by travelers and traveling singers from village to village and sung into the very hearts of the German people. And it is said that Luther did as much by his hymns for the Reformation as by his translation of the Bible. He set all Germany to chanting the praises of God and the Catholic priests found that unless they could stop the wondrous contagion of holy song, the Reformation would spread like wild-fire in a stubble-field. This actually did happen in the times of the Reformation, song being the great means of God in carrying its blessings.

Others before Luther found the most effective way to scatter sentiment was to put the same in some popular melody. Arius spread his erroneous doctrines on the Son of God far and wide among the people by means of song that stuck in their minds for generations.

Recognizing the power of song, music was very early introduced as a part of Christian worship. David has the honor of writing the oldest songs in the book of Psalms. He introduced both vocal and instrumental music in worship. He organized out on a grander scale what David began. And thus music has been used in divine worship as one of the best mediums to express praise to God.

Infidelity has no songs, for it has nothing to sing about. While Christianity in sacred song has developed the most beautiful and inspiring music known to mortals, such as "The Messiah," "Elijah," "Creation" and "St. Paul." At the very beginning of the Christian church we have the glorious "Magnificat" of Mary, the "Benedictus" of Zacharias, the "Glory in Excelsis" of the heavenly host, and the "Nunc Dimittis" of Simeon. And ever since music pure and elevating in sacred songs and hymns has imparted nerve, strength, comfort and healing to the afflicted soul. They embody Christian truth awakening the human heart to the goodness, greatness and mercy of God. Men have walked up to the cannon's mouth under martial music; it has turned defeat into victory. It has lifted up entire armies. There is no feeling music cannot express; no need it fails to minister to; and not a state of grace it cannot advance.

The fact that both California expositions are yielding financial profits is proof conclusive that the state did not go exposition-mad, in a business way, when it started two big enterprises of this kind for the same year.

Italy has ordered correspondents from the front, thus encouraging the guesswork that has done so much to promote ignorance.

It's a common saying that to the great man nothing is small. The converse is equally true; to the small man nothing is great.

The good that is in you is of small use as long as it stays there.
